WHAT SOOMI COMMITS TO

- No ads, ever.
- No mining or selling of customer data.
- No AI training on customer content.
- Paid service by design. No surveillance-funded free tier.
- Customer data stored in Canada, under Canadian law and Canadian courts.
- Encryption keys held in Canada, by us.

WHAT SOOMI DOES NOT CLAIM

Precision matters more to us than marketing, so we state the limits plainly.

- We do not claim to be beyond the reach of the law. Canadian data is governed by Canadian law and reachable through Canadian courts. The point is jurisdiction, not immunity.
- We do not offer end-to-end encryption, so we never say we cannot read your data. We hold the keys, in Canada, under Canadian legal process. Saying otherwise would be false.
- We are not finished. Our marketing site's signup confirmation email still routes through a US provider. It carries an email address and a confirmation token, never customer content, and it is being retired onto our own Canadian mail infrastructure.
